A modern bathroom interior with a rustic, industrial aesthetic. The background wall is made of rough, grey concrete with visible cracks and peeling paint. A large, rectangular mirror with a dark, textured frame is mounted on the wall. Below the mirror, a long, dark wooden shelf holds various bathroom items, including a shaving brush, a small container, and a white jar. In the foreground, a dark, rectangular vanity unit is partially visible. On top of the vanity, there is a glass bust of a man's head, a small orange, and several bottles of toiletries. The overall lighting is soft and natural, creating a warm and sophisticated atmosphere.
